

Lawmakers to Investigate Formosan Riot

By JOHN A. HARRIS.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressmen will question officials of the State and Defense departments Monday about anti-American rioting by Chinese mobs in Formosa.

Chairman Zablocki (D-Wis.) said his House Foreign Affairs Subcommittee would seek to determine "whether our troops aboard are under proper supervision and whether steps are being taken to prevent incidents."

Zablocki yesterday described as "most unfortunate" the sacking early Friday of the U. S. embassy at Taipei and a building housing the U. S. Information Agency (USIA). Several Americans were injured.

Other congressional reaction was equally serious in tone. Senate Republican Leader Knowland (Calif.) said he was "shocked."

"Mob violence that injures American citizens and destroys American property cannot be condoned among allies, neutrals or unfriendly nations," Knowland said.

The Chiang Kai-shek government has formally apologized. U. S. authorities have demanded "full compensation and adequate apology." The United States, however, likely will wind up paying for the damage, at least indirectly. Nationalist China operates on a deficit economy and U. S. aid makes up the deficit.

The rioting was directly touched off by the court-martial acquittal of a U. S. army sergeant who killed a Chinese man he allegedly caught peeping into the bathroom window at the sergeant's home.

Beck's Son Called Before Probers

SEATTLE, Wash., May 24 (UP) — Dave Beck Jr., son of the teamsters union president, was served today with a subpoena to appear "forthwith" before the senate racketeering committee, Marshal Bud Parsons said.

Young Beck was served in Seattle at 10 a. m. He had been one of three "missing" witnesses sought by the committee.

Still missing were Fred Verschuere Sr., auditor for Beck's union, and Joseph McEvoy, a relative of Beck's wife.

"Another member of the Beck clan, Norman Gessert, originally was among the 'missing' witnesses but he was found and served in Ellensburg and appeared before the committee before it recessed earlier this week.

Beck Jr. was handed the subpoena by Deputy U. S. Marshals Jim Smith and Bernard Freeman, who found him at 739th ave.

Young Beck, Gessert, and McEvoy had been seen in Vancouver, B. C. a few weeks ago.

McConaughy, above, says he hasn't made up his mind whether to step down from his $20,500 a year post as chairman of the Federal Communications Commission when his term expires June 30, 1957. Former Sen. George Bender, Ohio Republican, may succeed the 61-year-old McConaughy, also an Ohioan, if the latter refuses reappointment for seven more years.

News From State Capitol

State Capital Bureau
LITTLE ROCK, May 24 (Special) — State agencies have a chance to buy tires in the ensuing year for 18.5 per cent off state list price, compared with a 5.76 per cent discount on which the contract was awarded by the Purchasing Department in 1956.

Pennsylvania Tire Company, Mansfield, O., submitted the 18.5 per cent discount bid at the May 21 opening. The present contractor, R. A. Young & Son of Fort Smith, Ark., offered a 7.5 per cent discount on Goodrich tires.

Also bidding 7.5 per cent off list were Pine Bluff Rubber Co., on Fisk tires, and Mohawk Rubber Co., which got a small portion of the 1956 contract with a 12.5 per cent discount. Mohawk this time included an alternate proposal by which its discount will be only six per cent if its given the contract for only one of the 11 zones into which the state is divided.

Other companies turned in bids ranging from flat state list price to 5.75 per cent.

The Purchasing Department has not announced an award. Its specifications call for "first-line, first grade, 100 level tires of wide-spread public acceptance."

Honorariums for six speakers at the Medical Center dedication last month were paid with vouchers issued this week by the University of Arkansas. Darby, $225; Dr. Ward Darley, $250; Congressman Owen Harris, $300; Dr. Lewis Webster Jones, former U. of A. president, $300; Dr. Albert N. Snook, $300. Crown Coach Co., was paid $581.76 for running three buses from Fayetteville to Little Rock for the occasion.

Asks Chancellor Be Restrained
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett yesterday asked the Arkansas Supreme Court to prohibit Washington Chancellor Thomas F. Butt from acting in a dispute between the University of Arkansas and a Fayetteville construction company.

B. Sweetser Construction Co., has asked Butt for an injunction to stop the university from re-advertising for bids for construction of apartments for married students, for which a contract once was awarded to Sweetser.

Bennett ruled last week that the Sweetser bid had not complied with a 1957 law.

Yester Bennett asked the Supreme Court for a writ of prohibition against Butt on behalf of the university. Bennett contended Butt lacked jurisdiction because actions against state agencies must be brought in Pulaski County.

Negro Suspected of Robbing Three Banks
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A 39-year-old St. Louis Negro, already charged with burglarizing the bank of Holly Grove, today was charged with the burglaries of banks in Weiher and De Valls Bluff. All three burglaries occurred last month.

George Freeman, arrested in St. Louis May 7 and transferred here last week, was accused in complaints by U. S. Commissioner of Jack West of Forrest City of taking $1,085 from the Weiher bank April 13. The Holly Grove burglary occurred April 30.

Another St. Louis Negro, Edward Oliver, is being held at Clarendon in connection with the burglaries.

Separated Siamese Twins Doing Fine

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — The Freeman Siamese twins, separated in a four-hour operation yesterday were reported in "satisfactory" condition at North Side Hospital today.

The twin boys, joined at the abdomen, were delivered by Caesarean section April 26 to Mrs. William Freeman, 23, who weighs less than 100 pounds.

A team of doctors, including four surgeons, performed the operation to separate them. They said the major part of the operation was "dividing a common liver."

State Colleges Split Funds of Foundation

LITTLE ROCK, (UP) — The Arkansas Foundation of Associated Colleges today announced completion of its regular spring distribution of funds to its seven member colleges.

Dr. George S. Beson, president of Harding College and treasurer of the foundation, sent checks totaling $21,601.37 to the colleges.

Arkansas College at Batesville received $2,180. College of the Ozarks at Clarksville, $3,089; Harding College at Clarksville, $3,089; College of Conway, $3,544; John Brown University at Siloam Springs, $2,019; Ouachita Baptist College at Arkadelphia, $4,085; and Southern Baptist College at Walnut Ridge, $1,847.

Philander Smith College at Little Rock, not a member of the foundation, also received $10.46 as its share of a gift made through the foundation of all private accredited colleges in the state.

According to Brig. Hugh Cort (Ret.), executive director of the foundation, the checks represented gifts in support of the operating budgets of the private colleges made by 17 national corporations and 77 Arkansas firms. The gifts added to those previously made make a total of $369,649 distributed to the colleges.

In addition to funds distributed, the foundation has on hand $11,810 remaining from the Rockefeller Brothers' fund grant for program enrichment. These funds will be used this summer to provide advanced study and refresher courses for faculty members of the various colleges at some of the leading educational institutions of the country. The foundation also has on hand $1,105 in unrestricted gifts received the past week.

Lion Finally Has to Sign Contract
LITTLE ROCK, (UP) — Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Co., and the Lion division of Monsanto Chemical Co., have reached agreement on a new contract.

The announcement was made jointly yesterday by W. R. Stephens of Little Rock, chairman of the gas company board; and T. M. Martin of El Dorado, president of the Lion division. No details were revealed.

The announcement said the contract was similar to the five-year contracts Ark-La has signed with its other large industrial customers.

Lion division was one of the last major holdouts against the higher industrial rates. It was one of the original opponents of an application filed by Ark-La with the Public Service Commission asking for a rate increase of $4,600,000 from its industrial customers. The commission approved the request.

Lion also was one of the companies that appealed the PSC decision to the Arkansas Supreme Court, which in turn reversed the commission and sent the case back for further consideration. The commission now has the appeal under advisement.

Under the large industrial contracts, the companies pay Ark-La a slightly higher price than was allowed by the commission in its 1955 industrial rate order.

$444,000 Cook Co. Fund Is Probed
CHICAGO (AP) — Cook County (Chicago) authorities today investigated for leads in what one official termed "illegal and irregular" money transactions involving at least $444,000 in public funds.

The case was disclosed yesterday by County Treasurer Herbert C. Paschen. He and Cook County State's Atty. Benjamin Adamowski said transactions from a fund in the treasurer's office appear "illegal and irregular." Paschen said he had conducted a three-month private check of records.

"We began to find discrepancies and discovered that files were missing," Paschen said. "So I called in the state's attorney."

Adamowski said the case had "overtones of similarity with the Hodge scandal," the free-spending escapade in which Orville Hodge, the state auditor, milked some $2 1/2 million dollars from the state treasury before his thefts sent him to prison. Adamowski said the money involved might reach $750,000.

Chinese Mobs Wreck U. S. Embassy

By SPENCER MOOSA

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek held this Chinese Nationalist capital under strict military rule today in the wake of violent anti-American rioting which wrecked the U. S. embassy and injured 13 Americans.

Taipei's half-million people were kept in tight check by 33,000 Nationalist troops swarming the streets, ready to put down any new eruption. Authorities sought mob leaders who turned a protest against an unpopular U. S. court-martial decision into an anti-U. S. rampage by 20,000 to 30,000 Chinese and Formosans. Some arrests already have been made.

On the Chinese mainland, the Communists launched a propaganda campaign calling the disorders proof that the people of Formosa oppose Chiang's alliance with the United States.

In extra after extra, the Communist press in British Hong Kong proclaimed in big, red type: "Chinese brothers join over against Americans. Chinese brothers revenge long years of hate."

Peiping radio urged Chinese in Formosa to "intensify their efforts to work for the Liberation" of the island.

The Chiang government has formally apologized to the United States and indicated it will pay compensation for the damage to American property. In the long run, however, the United States, apparently will end up paying at least indirectly for the damage. The fact is that Formosa has a deficit economy and U. S. aid makes up the deficit.

Community in Illinois Adopts Big Family

FLORA, Ill. (UP) — A despairing father who found dramatic new hope when this small Southern Illinois community adopted his destitute family of 10 said today he would do anything if only he could remain here.

Gene Abney, 31, a jobless carpenter from Corpus Christi, Tex., was stranded here Tuesday night when his 1941 car broke down.

Abney had piled his wife and seven children into the ancient vehicle for a trip to Cleveland, Ohio, in hopes of finding work. But he could obtain nothing, and was heading back to Corpus Christi when the car gave out.

At the same time, his wife began having labor pains, and a short time later she gave birth to a boy at Clay County Hospital.

Abney had hit rock bottom, with no car, no money and no prospects for improving his condition.

Then, the Flora Daily News-Record learned of his plight and wrote a story, leading off with a biblical text from the book of James, second chapter, verses 15-17:

"If a brother or sister be naked, and destitute of daily food and one of you say to them, depart and peace, be ye warmed and filled, notwithstanding ye give them not these things which are needful to the body, what do it profit? Even so faith if it hath not works is dead, being alone."

The newspaper said the Abneys needed "help and a lot of it." It urged Flora's 6,000 residents to "function as God's will intends."

Yesterday, responses to the story began flowing in. The doctor who delivered the baby tore up his bill. A bank fund for the Abneys got $75 in a matter of hours.

The Salvation Army contributed $100, and the congregation of the Church of Christ offered to pay all the Abneys' bills — without limit. Bundles of clothes arrived for the family, and a car dealer set about obtaining a new car for the father.

The Abneys will be here for at least another week while Mrs. Abney recuperates at the hospital. But Abney would like to extend the stay indefinitely.

"I'd be willing to do anything to make an honest dollar," he said. "Perhaps, if there was a job on a farm somewhere near here...."

Twisters Dip Into New Mexico

CLOVIS, N. M. (AP) — Five small twisters dipped unexpectedly but of eastern New Mexico skies early today, unroofing homes and ripping out power lines.

There were no reports of injuries, but property damage was extensive in Curry County.

Chinese Envoy Expresses Regret

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chinese Ambassador Hsiao K. Tong expressed of the United States today the "profoundest regrets of my government" for the anti-American rioting in Taipei, Formosa.

On instructions telephoned here by Chinese Nationalist Foreign Minister George Yeh, Tong conferred with Asst. Secretary of State Walter Robertson shortly before noon and made the statement of regrets.

Tong told reporters afterward "there's no deep anti-American sentiment" involved in the rioting in his opinion. He called it "an outbreak of emotion."

He also said a number of members of the mob had been arrested and "more will be." The situation has been brought under control, he said, with the establishment of a curfew and a declaration of martial law.

Tong left Robertson's office saying this was the "most distressing mission" he has had to perform in his year in Washington.

And in talking with newsmen, he said, "It's awful."

Benny About Set to Leave Hospital

The 7-year-old, who spent a night and a day trapped at the bottom of a well shaft, felt a little bit in the dumps yesterday when he was told he couldn't leave Bay-De-Nat Hospital at nearby Mastic Beach until today.

"But I told Mike I'd be home today," he protested.

Mike is Michael Molinaro, his neighbor playmate who sounded the alarm when Benny fell into the 24-foot well his father had dug. Benny was rescued a week ago tonight.

Benny, who was allowed out of his hospital bed for the first time yesterday, was due for some more rest in bed at home. It will be a few more days before he can return to school.

Dr. Joseph Kris said Benny was "a little wobbly" but "perfectly normal" as he took his first steps around his hospital room. There was a sling on his bruised left arm to rest it.

Benny's last day in the hospital was enlivened by a visit from Manager Bill Rigney and pitching ace Johnny Antonelli of the New York Giants, his favorite ball club. They gave him an autographed baseball and a cap.

Officers Plan to Question Cohen

LOS ANGELES (UP) — The district attorney's office assigned investigators today to question former gambler Mickey Cohen about Los Angeles gangland slayings which he discussed during a national television program last Sunday.

Dist. Atty. William McKesson assigned two investigators to look up Cohen and "give him an audience." McKesson said he had studied a transcript of the program and note Cohen used such plural terms as "their lives or mine."

Cohen, now a Southern California florist, arrived here yesterday from Chicago and denied he had killed more than one man. Cohen on the interview show spoke of "killings" in the past.

"When I said 'killings,' I meant killing — singular — not plural," Cohen told a two-man police reception at the airport yesterday.

McKesson said he decided to investigate Cohen after conferring with Police Chief William H. Parker. Parker said he had no intention of questioning Cohen and only sent police to the airport merely to make sure "everything was okay."

Girl Electrocuted at Dardanelle

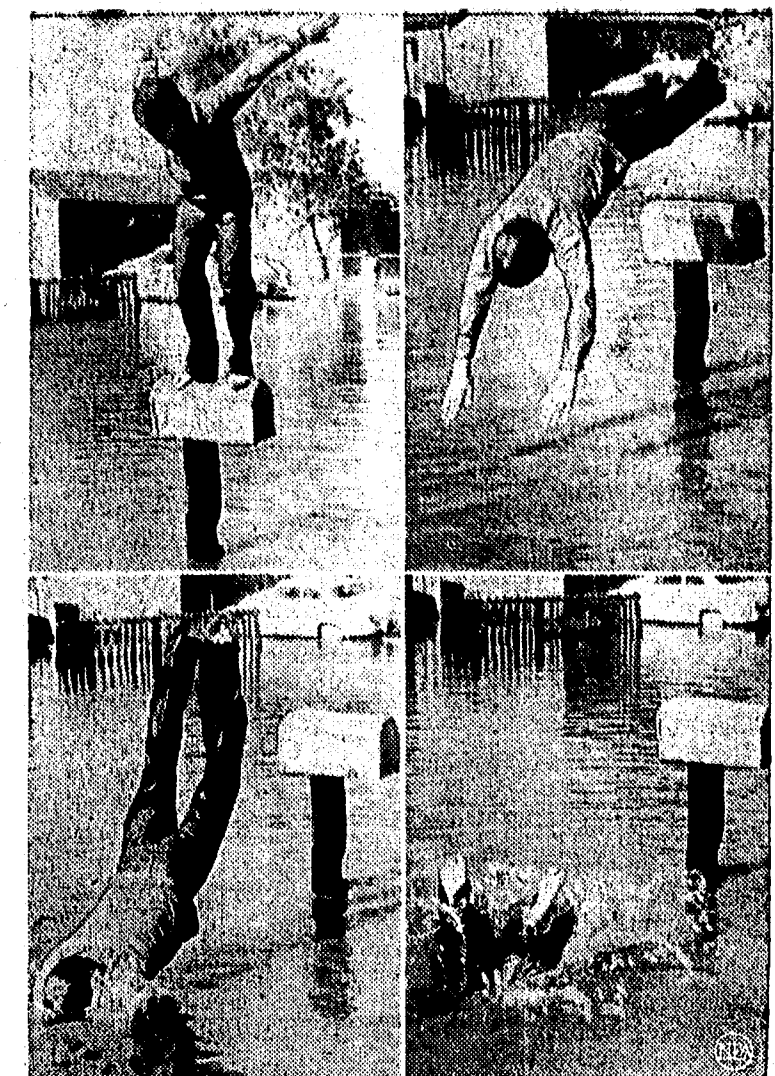

DARDANELLE, Ark. — Twelve-year-old Patricia Ann Roundsville of Bluffton, Yell County, was electrocuted when she touched an accidentally — charged gas pipe beneath her parents' home yesterday.

Her mother, Mrs. Thomas Roundsville, suffered a slight electrical shock when she touched her daughter's body.

The child had gone under the house looking for eggs. A television wire was grounded in the wet earth near the pipe, completing an electrical circuit.

Sheriff H. D. McCormick said an electric clock had become grounded through a stove and that the entire gas pipe system in the house was charged with electricity.

The body was discovered by Mrs. Roundsville. A verdict of accidental death was returned at a coroner's inquest here last night.

College Pranks Called a Release From Tension

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Here we are in the silly season, with the youth of the nation erupting in seemingly senseless party raids, brawls and cop-fighting.

This week, for example, several hundred male Columbia University students marched on a dormitory housing students of Barnard, its women's college, shouting "panty raid," but retreated before a platoon of police squad cars. Two hundred boys at Southern Methodist University, near Dallas, milled and chanted around seven sorority houses.

"Senseless?" asked psychiatrist Marylyn Farnham. "Sure, it's senseless. But here it is: The saturnalia. It's as old as mankind and all societies have recognized that this will happen when there comes a release from tension when the sun comes back."

Peoples through history, Dr. Farnham continued, have coped with the annual end-of-winter explosion by turning springtime into formal periods of feast, celebration and ritual. The word saturnalia — meaning a period of occasional general license — comes from the ancient Roman festival of Saturn, a sort of carnival.

"Now here we are again, with the sun over the Equator and everyone loosed from the bondage of ice and snow," continued Dr. Farnham. "— at the back of our minds — freed from the fear that when everything turned brown the sun might never come back to us."

"Older females buy new hats. Older men get out their golf clubs. The young are beside themselves. People even dye eggs — certainly symbol of fertility. Everything, at this time, is a symbol of sex and birth. Naturally, man — and of course, woman — is a cyclic animal."

Spring seems to hit the college crowd hardest — naturally, says Dr. Farnham. Every year from Connecticut to California there are spring-time rampages among students which frequently require police action. There are general melees, outside pranks, firecrackers, rocks and egg-throwing. There are real and threatened panty raids, during which co-eds usually stay inside and bolt the doors.

At Barnard, this week, the locked-in girls participated to the extent of jeering at the milling mob below, tossing some undergarments to the lads and later tossing water-filled paper bags at the police who were trying to control the high spirits.

The Dallas co-eds, however, were unseasonably chilly to the raiders. Last year they not only donated undergarments, but some enthusiastic lassies unloosed the sorority doors.

"Unusually," said Dr. Farnham, "the girls get into this nonsense just as much as the boys do. It's quite clear that everybody involved recognizes the sexual symbolism mixed up in all this. What is a panty raid except another expression of the older ones of receiving a lady's glove or handkerchief as a token of favor. You know, tournaments, jousting and all that sort of thing."

What to do about it? "I don't know," said Dr. Farnham. "It's pretty primitive stuff."

Rumor Denied by Italian Director

CALCUTTA, India (AP) — Movie director Hari Das Gupta said today he is bewildered by the "Unexpected episode" involving his wife and Italian producer Roberto Rossellini.

Das Gupta's estranged wife, Sonali, has been living in a Bombay hotel next door to Rossellini, the husband of actress Ingrid Bergman, Rossellini, who was in New Delhi yesterday on business, denied for the second time news paper reports that he might divorce Miss Bergman to marry the young Indian script writer.

"There is nothing to it," Rossellini said.

The husband was interviewed in Calcutta, where he is working on a movie.

"I am bewildered by this unexpected episode and I don't know what to say," said Das Gupta, 36. "Can't you realize my position? Please don't ask me for more details."

Das Gupta has worked with Rossellini on films the Italian is making for the Indian government. The Indian director introduced his wife to Rossellini about three months ago. She left Das Gupta early this month, taking the younger of her two children with her. Rossellini says he is writing movie scripts for him.

Heavy Tennessee Crop Damage

DYERSBURG, Tenn. (AP) — County Agent John Barrett estimates flood damage to crops and farm buildings in Dyer County may run as high as 3 1/2 million dollars — with more high water expected.

After touring the area of yesterday's flash floods, Barrett figured at least 30 per cent of county's cotton crop was lost.

Nearly all cotton, corn and beans in the lowlying sections were either washed away or covered with silt, he said, and there was widespread damage to farm buildings and fences.

The Memphis Weather Bureau issued a warning for residents and farmers of lowlands in the Dyersburg-Ripley area to prepare for worse flooding, brought by the rising Mississippi River.

The bureau said the river is expected to rise 10 feet along the Tennessee banks by Sunday and urged "every possible immediate precaution and protective measure" as a rather heavy flooding is indicated.

However, the areas pinpointed are sparsely populated, frequently flooded sections that are mostly farmland. No urban sectors were threatened with serious high water.

Dyer County is in northwest Tennessee.

Twisters Sweep Southwest With More Predicted

LAWTON, Okla., (UP) — At least 31 tornadoes swept across the storm-battered Southwest late yesterday, killing four persons, injuring a countless number of others and destroying more than 200 homes and one school.

Several other persons were reported missing and searchers feared the death toll would mount.

Forecasters said the prevailing weather today posed a threat of new twisters over the five-state area of Texas, Oklahoma, Wyoming, Colorado and Kansas.

Friday's outbreak, which followed a wave of tornadoes that struck the area earlier this week, was described by the U. S. Weather Bureau as one of the worst in a single day in years.

Hardest hit was the town of Lawton, in southwest Oklahoma, where all four recorded deaths occurred. Ten others were hurt, four seriously, when three twisters roared through the small farming community almost simultaneously.

The new rash of twisters brought to at least 181 the number that has swept across the Southwest this week. More than 50 persons were reported killed in an earlier siege on Monday and Tuesday.

Yesterday's injured included several airborne persons, Pilot James Ruscoe and Stewardess Dianne Durham, of Flushing, N. Y., received head and rib injuries when thrown about the cabin of a chartered C-46 plane buffeted by a twister between Amarillo, Tex., and Tucuman, N. M. The plane, carrying 30 soldiers, had just skirted one tornado when it ran into the edge of another. None of the soldiers were injured.

At Walters, Okla., a twister demolished and occupied school. The known dead, all of Lawton, were Mr. and Mrs. William Overton and Mr. and Mrs. Art Ashline.

State Railways Allowed to Hike Rates

LITTLE ROCK, (UP) — Arkansas railroads were authorized yesterday to increase their intrastate freight rates six per cent.

The application, pending for 10 months, was approved by the State Commerce Commission, a new regulatory body set up by the 1955 Arkansas legislature.

William M. Berry, commission chairman, said the increase would raise the railroads' revenue about $800,000 per year. Effective in 15 days, it was the first blanket increase granted the railroads since September, 1952.

The application was filed with the public service commission Jan. 23, 1956. It was turned over to the commerce commission early this year.

The increase was similar to the six per cent rate hike ordered by the interstate commerce commission on interstate traffic March 2, 1956.

Berry said the commission found that railroads had increased wages 14.8 per cent, and that the railroads had increased their efficiency in an attempt to offset the higher costs.

Proposes TV Program on the Dance

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP) — Sometimes when you can't find a new television program that pleases you, it's fun to make one up.

Let's start a weekly half-hour program on the dance. We're a dancing people and we know some fascinating dances — even us middle-aged characters.

There's much nostalgia in this proposed television program that any smart network can launch at any time it wishes. It may be significant that the Charleston is popular again. But the Charleston of today has less shimmy than the Charleston of the 1920's. Maybe that's significant too.

Does anybody remember the strapping? All right, call it the Peabody. It's the same thing. It's quite a dance, children. With that break and cut and dip you can dance to absolutely any music — even the music of Lawrence Welk.

Then there's the glide. Why a group of college students should have been so astonished to watch a couple doing the glide a few weeks ago is truly astonishing.

Some people used to call it the Harvard glide and some the Princeton glide. Harvard men used to plant their chairs on their partners' foreheads and howl bored. A Princeton man would plant his chin in the same way — and smile faintly.

Dancing is less of a group sport than it was in the 1930's when poverty united everyone. What ever happened to the Big Apple? And what ever became of the Lambeth Walk? Gone with the conga line apparently. Lost with the shag.

This TV program of ours, by the way, could bring back the shag. If you did the shag you wouldn't need to diet. It will shake the pounds off.

Have any of you younger dancers ever seen George Raft do the tango? That was something. Raft did as much for Latin American music as Xavier Cugat, and there are a few old hands around who still insist the tango is more graceful than the rumba or the samba.

Let's not forget the polka, which is merely a fast schottische. Above all, let's not forget the waltz, which has one wonderful characteristic: the older you are the better you waltz — provided you've learned to control that old arm pump-handle.

This proposed TV program we wish some one would start would teach many of us to stop using the pump-handle.

Take it away, Madison Avenue.

HAPPY HELICOPTER—Don't swear off, just yet, if you happen to see "Henry the Helicopter" dancing a jig. It's strictly legitimate, because "Henry," being offered a drink in Atlanta, Ga., by pilot Cecil Williams, of Laurel, Miss., (kneeling) and Verrell Schug, of Storm Lake, Iowa, belongs to the Army's Helicopter Precision Flight Team. The group is touring the country demonstrating the maneuverability of the flying "windmills." Highlight of their amazing 28-minute acrobatic act is a "copter square dance."

Frank Always Makes Press a Target

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Much ado about Frank Sinatra's press relations.

The crooner is the subject of a series of magazine articles that have evoked much comment, as well as a $2,500,000 suit from Frankie.

Sinatra is one of those rare stars who does not actively seek publicity. The headlines he makes just happen to him, and with astonishing regularity.

The reason he has so many enemies in the press is simple. Sinatra was raised on the Hoboken homely of punishing your enemies and rewarding your friends.

Long in the limelight, he has made a handy target for writers. When he rose to fame on bobby-soxers' shrieks, when he had his romantic misadventures with Ava Gardner, when he hit the skids before "From Here to Eternity" — those times gave ample opportunity for knooks.

Some stars would let bygones be bygones when they climbed on top again. Not Frank. He remembers every knock. Once he gets his mind set against a person, whether it's Samuel Goldwyn or an offish waiter, that's it.

Sight of the Webb Clifton Webb being charmed by a policeman for jaywalking with his mother across Vine Street to the opening of his pal Noel Coward's "Fallen Angels." The Webb aplomb made no impression on the Joe Friday.

Errol Flynn feels like a piker, he told me, for suing Confidential for only a million dollars. After all, Librarian went for 20. "But at least I've got a hearing," Flynn added, "and that's something the others don't have."

He is now penning his memoirs, which should make torrid reading. Flynn asserted he will tell all about the sex-on-the-yacht trial, including the backstage studio maneuverings.

DOROTHY DIX

Firm Hand Needed With Tantrum-Throwing Girl

Dear Dorothy Dix: My daughter, aged 26, is usually a sweet, pleasant girl, but when she doesn't get what she wants she throws tantrums. It all started when she was 15, and at that time we considered it just a phase of adolescence.

She's attractive, but can't keep a boy friend. At present she has a beau, but I can read the handwriting on the wall. My husband and I dare not say anything nice about anyone; in fact, we have to treat our younger daughter very coldly to keep the older one from starting up a storm. D. M.

Dear D. M.: The kid gloves should long ago have given away to boxing gloves. Eleven years is a long time to spend in conciliating a young despot. You have harmed everyone in the family by putting up with Gloria's temper.

Wait until she gets in one of her good moods, then tell her you've decided to take drastic action unless she begins acting like an adult. Try some of the firmness you should have exercised years ago.

Gloria's failure to make the grade as a mature woman can be blamed, in part at least, on her parents.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Maybe you think a girl of 17 can't fall in love; but the feeling I have for Basil is one of the most wonderful things I have ever known. I thought he felt the same, but now he's dating another girl. I just can't get over it. FIFI

Dear Fifi: The most wonderful thing about love is that it can happen more than once. The feeling you have for Basil will be duplicated again, and perhaps again.

Young love is often a dress rehearsal for the real thing. Perk up and get into circulation again.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm a widow with three children and would like to remarry. I have two men patient man but drinks too much, and B., who leads a model life but doesn't like my children. Which should I marry? DIANE

Dear Diane: Life as it is may not be complete, but believe me, it has not been reported since.

Maj. Dorman Brown, Tulsa Civil Air Patrol squadron commander, said the CAP search group had been out since about dawn. He said the unreported plane carried one passenger, Ronnie White, no relation to the pilot.

Brown said bad weather between here and Fort Smith hampered the hunt.

stepfather won't improve it. Unless you can come up with something better, don't consider remarriage.

Prescott Garden Club held their final meeting of the season Tuesday, May 21 at the home of Mrs. J. W. Teeter with Mrs. Burke Shelton assistant hostess. A beautiful picnic lunch was served at noon to seventeen members and a guest.

Mrs. J. B. Hesterly, president, conducted the business meeting and outlined the club work for the next year, which begins in September.

Murry; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Karren Cummings; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. J.

'The Tattered Dress' a Taut Exciting Courtroom Drama

Courtroom dramas, when well done, are among the most absorbing of films, and Universal International's "The Tattered Dress" which opens Sunday at the Seagard theatre, has a taut, suspenseful story that is not only well produced but superbly acted.

Filmed in CinemaScope, the picture boasts a five-star cast—namely, Jeff Chandler, Joanne Crain, Jack Carson, Gail Russell and Elaine Stewart—in its leads, and they are backed up by such accomplished performers as George Tobias, Edward Andrews and Philip Reed.

Chandler gives perhaps the finest performance of his career as a brilliant, criminal lawyer hired to defend Reed on a charge of murder in a small California desert resort town. He wins the case but then is forced back into court to defend himself against a jury-bribing charge trumped up by a corrupt sheriff, expertly played by Jack Carson. Thus there are two thrilling trial sequences in this film and it is difficult to say which is the more dramatic.

This is the kind of picture in which every actor seems inspired to give his best. Performances by Miss Crain, as Chandler's estranged wife; Miss Russell, as the woman used to frame Chandler, and Elaine Stewart, as the predatory, two-timing wife of Reed, are remarkable in their delineation of character, and it is safe to say that none of the players has ever appeared to better advantage.

Miss Stewart, turned platinum blonde for this role, emerges as a new screen personality. Hers is a flashy role and she makes the most of it.

This is a picture of mounting, col-makes, with one thrill after another, for though it is essentially a courtroom drama, there are three murders and the story is never static. For comedy relief, there is George Tobias, comedian friend of Chandler's, who eventually, however, becomes another tragic victim of the evil sheriff.

Produced by Albert Zugsmith, the picture is excellently directed by Jack Arnold from a literate, eloquent and exciting script, written by George Zuckerman.

Controversy on Interview With Cohen

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP) — It was inevitable that Miss Wallace would create controversy with his Sunday evening interview program on ABC-TV (8 p.m. CST).

But even Wallace did not expect the kind of controversy that has arisen since last Sunday when Mickey Cohen, the ex-gambler, sounded off against two Los Angeles police officials.

In choosing Cohen, Wallace had a sure instinct or an interesting human situation, a good "story." But Cohen blew his stack and the interview now is remembered only for its name-calling.

In his interview program on a local New York station and now on the ABC network Wallace has developed a technique of probing questioning. Occasionally, he has sounded too personal. As a result, he has created the impression in some quarters that he's a sensationist.

By indulging in name-calling, Cohen, whose answers Wallace could not control, has not enhanced Wallace's journalistic reputation with some people.

Here, Wallace tells me, is his definition of the ideal interview subject:

"A man or woman of some accomplishment who is articulate and around whom there is some small controversy; one who is representative of a group or type of American about whom we have preconceptions that whet our curiosity."

That definition takes an interview out of the realm of superficiality. It means absorbing television viewing — as long as it does not sink into name-calling.

Wallace candidly admits he has difficulty in obtaining the interview subjects he seeks. None is paid. "If we pay one, we're dead."

Reported Down Private Plane

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A private plane, flown by a Tulsa justice of the peace, was reported missing today. Planes from Tulsa and Fort Smith, Ark., were making a search.

The pilot, George White, was said to have left Fort Smith about 5:15 p. m. yesterday and en route to Tulsa.

Before the merger, and less than a year after becoming AFL president, Meany headed the AFL crackdown on the International Longshoremen's Association. This was after the New York Crime Commission disclosed corruption and racketeering in the I.L.A. The AFL threw the Longshoremen out. Within a year after the AFL-CIO merger, action began against corruption, alleged or real.

In 1956 the AFL-CIO began digging into charges of corruption in four unions — the Baker, Industrial, a Laundry and Distillery Workers.

Yesterday the Laundry Workers were suspended and ordered to clean house or face expulsion by December. At the same time the AFL-CIO Executive Council placed the Distillery and Industrial Workers Unions on probation.

The Senate disclosures about Beck put the heat on the AFL-CIO, as it never had been put on before, to clean its house and its statutes.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some leaders of the AFL-CIO, which this week bounced Dave Beck from its list of vice presidents on a charge of misusing his union funds, were asked a question.

Did they have doubts about Beck, president of the Teamsters' Union, before the Senate Rackets Committee investigated him and if so, why didn't they act before the committee revealed his handling of the Teamsters' funds?

Only one — George M. Harrison, president of the Railway Clerks — gave a positive answer on the record. He said he had doubts, but only because of gossip and not because of anything he knew as a fact.

When asked why he didn't do something about it, he said: "Who, no? I don't have and the AFL-CIO doesn't have power like the Senate committee to subpoena Beck's books."

One very important AFL-CIO leader, not wanting to be quoted by name, said he had not been suspicious of Beck's financial dealings. But he repeated what Harrison said about lack of power in the AFL-CIO to demand Beck's books.

He noted that even the Senate committee, which did have subpoena authority, could not make Beck disclose his records. Two other leaders would say only "no comment" to questions.

These were Jacob S. Potofsky, head of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, and A. J. Hayes, president of the Machinists. Like Harrison, they are on the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee, a new investigating union organization.

What can we do?

TO KEEP THE NUMBER FROM INCREASING

It is estimated that in our country the police come in contact with about a million boys and girls each year on charges of delinquency. Since census figures show there will be 45% more children between 10 and 17 years of age in 1960 than in 1950, it is expected that the delinquents will increase to over 1,500,000.

Is not the answer to this growing problem in the CHURCH, where our children, through the Sunday School, will receive a foundation in Christian living — a basis for uprightness? With this in mind, our Sunday School is launching its Vacation Bible School program this summer. You can know your child is safe in Vacation Bible School where he is also becoming a citizen who will be an asset to his community. So send your child to:
